- Sajd Aryeziu, Zef Pali and Caqi Gogo have had meetings with the Greek Foreign Office and Panagiotis Pipinelis, former Permanent Under-Secretary of Foreign Affairs. These members of the Committee for Free Albania requested Greek approval for the establishment in Northern Greece of an Albanian camp to which they would bring agents from abroad. Delegates of various Albanian political groups would establish themselves in Athens in connection with the said camp, which would allegedly serve as a base for both intelligence and operational missions into Albania. After the matter was discussed by Greek officials at the highest levels, approval was given by the Greek Foreign Office on the evening of 4 November 1950.
- On 3 Hovember 1950 Kryeziu, Cogo and Pali gave a dinner for 25 Albanian members of the political refugee camp at Lavrion. Muharrem Bajraktari, who was observed to be wearing a Balli Kombetar pin, made a speech at the dinner.
